Headline:
Sunny spells, a few showers and feeling very warm.

Today:
Any early fog patches soon clearing, with many experiencing sunshine during the morning. Patchy cloud will develop through the afternoon, still allowing sunny spells but also bringing a risk of a few heavy showers. Feeling very warm. Maximum temperature 27 deg C (81 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers ease during the evening as skies cloud over. Dry for many in the north and east overnight. Outbreaks of rain move in from the southwest through the early hours. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tuesday:
Cloudy throughout, with early rain turning to widespread and often heavy showers through the day, with a risk of thunder. Cooler than of late. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Heavy, blustery, and possibly thundery showers on Wednesday. Sunny spells on Thursday, but with some rain in the south. Cloudier on Friday, with showers for most, some heavy. Cooler throughout.
